Foreword: Justice and tolerance are two principles of the highest importance to the nations of the world in this critical period at the end of World War II and the beginning of the postwar era when the nations are undecided as to what course they should take to gain and to insure everlasting peace.

If every individual of the nations would practice these two important principles—justice and tolerance—the people of the world would be insured of their "rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Mrs. Fred B. Dixon, the wife of our principal, has ably expressed our thoughts in the following poem:

Clad in his silken robes, John Marshall sat,
Dispensing justice to a watching world,
Putting new strength into our infant laws,
And where there was no precedent, creating one!

Shabby and tall and gaunt, he walked about the streets of Richmond,
His market basket on his arm, a scarf wound about his throat,
Stopping to chat briefly with neighbors,
While his keen eyes bored thru all sham and pretense,
And his hearty laugh boomed out to warm each honest heart.

Today, beside his home on Marshall Street, there stands a high school bearing his proud name,
And, (so we hope) dispensing justice still, to all the youth who enter its broad doors.
For now a weary world, hungry and cold and bitter at its heart
Is turning once again to watch our land,
To see, if here, at least, Justice still holds sway.

May every boy and girl who passes thru the doorway
Of John Marshall High School
Go out, resolved that the high purpose of the man whose name they bear
Each time they call themselves "The Justices",
Shall be upheld in all they do and say, Remembering One who said
"Think not that I am come to destroy the law . . . I am not come to destroy but to fulfill . . ."

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The last and best year of our high school career—our senior year! This was the year we all looked forward to when we were sophomores and juniors. When it finally got here, it went all too fast for us. Now that we are graduates, we can only look back and reminisce about all our good times together . . .

With the unfailing help of Miss Thelma B. Keene and Mr. William W. Brock, counselors, the officers for the fall term, elected last spring, started us off on the right path. These leaders were: Bob Pate, president; Janette Mays, secretary; and Eddie Ware, treasurer. As voted, three vice-presidents were to be chosen from the incoming seniors.

At a special assembly held early in October, the candidates for the vice-presidency were presented. Election returns showed Lee Early, Bob Parrish, and Martha Reuss the successful candidates.

After class organization a membership drive was launched. Response was fine, and we foresaw a good year ahead.

With the end of the football season and John Marshall as the city champion, we made plans to show the team our gratitude. An informal Juke Box Dance was held in its honor on the night of December 5 in the Wythe gym. Warren Long was "emcee" and Ralph Shoemaker disc-jockey.

To show the ever-present spirit of cooperation and friendliness between faculty and students, the class had a Tea-Day for senior teachers the afternoon of December 10 in the Wythe tearoom. Miss Keene and the class officers made up the receiving line and the homeroom representatives served as hostesses.

The senior class presented the traditional Christmas pageant portraying The Nativity scenes. Seniors paid tribute to the outstanding members of the class by electing them to take part in this pageant. Evelyn Collier was honored as Mary and Ted Filer as Joseph. Also participating were Norman Dodl, Warren Long, William Perdue, Nick Andre, Bob Parrish, Bob Lambert, Janette Mays, and Martha Reuss.

In January, committees which had been appointed earlier worked busily preparing for the various activities concerning commencement. In connection with this, it was voted to have only one "Who's Who" for the entire year.

The night of January 30 was a big date for seniors. At this time February graduates had their commencement dance in the Wythe gym, which was bedecked with blue and white crepe paper. To the music of Barney Abrams and his orchestra the girls, in their prettiest evening frocks, stepped "the light fantastic" with their escorts, dressed in best array.

Highlighting the program for the dance were three features: presentation of the queen and her court, "Who's Who", and the spring term officers. Vera Williams, maid of honor, crowned Joyce McKinney queen of the dance. The queen's court was made up of twelve student-selected girls.

Bob Parrish, master of ceremonies, announced in clever rhymes the winners of the coveted titles of "Who's Who in the Class of '48". "Best dressed" girl was Mary Ann Hughes. Jean Belcher and Ralph Shoemaker had the "most personality". Frances Durrette was voted the "most popular" girl. "Best looking" were Martha Ann Boos and Lee Early. The "most intellectual" couple were Martha Reuss and Norman Dodl. This is the third time that these two have won this honor. Congratulations! "Most talented" were Maurianne Burton and Teddy Perritt. Ted Filer had the title "most athletic" boy. Jean Howe and Ralph Richardson were the "best dancers". Chosen as the girl "most likely to succeed" was Kathleen Burkett. Evelyn Collier was voted both "most athletic" and "best all-round" girl. Bob Pate was not only "best all-round", but also "most popular" boy. Also awarded two titles was Warren Long, whom classmates chose as "best dressed" and "most likely to succeed".

Announcement of the spring term officers showed Lee Early as our new president. Assisting him were Bob Parrish and Martha Reuss, vice-presidents; Charlotte Folkes, secretary; and John Burton, treasurer.

Following the tradition set last year, a Baccalaureate Service was planned for Sunday afternoon, February 1, in the school auditorium. However, snow and inclement weather conditions cancelled this service.

The night of February 4 meant commencement and "goodbye" to John Marshall for some students. Dressed in their blue and white caps and gowns, the graduates marched down the aisles of the school auditorium for their commencement exercises. The honorary science award medal was received by Bettie Rodgers Jarrett. Mr. Brock presented the class to Dr. Dixon who delivered the diplomas as Miss Keene read the names. The Verse Speaking Choir, with Mary Lou Rose and Audrey Williams as soloists, read "Justice", a pageant written by one of the graduates, Kathleen Burkett.

At the beginning of the new term another membership campaign was launched, with the results even better than those of the preceding drive.

Next to our graduation we shall always remember the commencement dance for the June graduates on the night of June 11. How gaily the Wythe gym was decorated with crepe paper of spring hues! Seniors chose the prettiest girls in the class for the honor of May Queen and her court. Names of the lucky beauties were kept a secret until the big occasion, and an elaborate program was planned in the queen's honor.

A Baccalaureate Service on June 13 was planned for and by the June graduates. Memorable in the lives of all graduates will be the exercises held at the Mosque on June 14. Graduation day had arrived. The Verse Speaking Choir took part in the program. Musical selections were given by the choir, girls' chorus, and orchestra. Also included was the presentation of the gift of the Class of '48 to the school. Scholarships and other honors were announced at this time. . . .

It has been a joy looking back over the activities of our senior year. Pleasant memories as seniors at John Marshall, as well as the ever-faithful guidance of Miss Keene and Mr. Brock, to whom we are greatly indebted, will always linger in our hearts and minds wherever we may go or whatever we may do in years to come.

Officers and homeroom representatives take the seniors who have recently moved to Richmond on a tour of John Marshall's home which is a national shrine located on our campus.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Juniors! Ah—what bliss!
Never was there a class like this.
We've had fun, a jolly time,
For we're the Class of '49!

With Billy Roberson as president, Jane Hunter as vice-president, Elizabeth Sydnor as secretary, John Wooldridge as treasurer, and Jo Hull as historian and reporter, the Class of '49 started their year. Under the capable leadership of the officers and class representatives, the social functions of the class were planned.

The first activity of the organization was a picnic held at Forest Hill Park on October 30. It was a clear, bright day; although the air was nippy, the conditions were just perfect for a successful picnic—and it was too! A large crowd turned out, and it wasn't long before the boys had an exciting game of football with plenty of action.

The girls, seeing that they were left out of this sport, organized a game of baseball. Everyone was having lots of fun! But—unknown by the students, the sponsors had discovered that the hot dogs had been left at school! Luckily for us some of the maids brought them, and soon everybody was eating sizzling hot dogs. Yum-yum! We finished with a bang by singing school songs and giving some John Marshall yells.

It is customary for the junior class to have charge of the Thanksgiving program each year. This year, with Dr. Dixon's permission, we decided to revive the custom of preparing baskets for the underprivileged people of this city. Our program, put on by junior students, consisted of songs, poems, recitations and prayers. The students taking part in this program were: Billy Roberson, John Wooldridge, Jackie Reynolds, Bernice Nuckols, Elizabeth Sydnor, Phil Krill, Barbara Hudson, Ted Chelpon, Robert Smith, June Gibbs, and Jo Hull. A press photographer took a picture and wrote a story for the local papers.

Our most important event of the year was our dance, the Christmas Ball, held on December 12, in the Wythe gymnasium. The main attractions of the evening were Harvey Hudson, the master of ceremonies, and Ole' Santa, himself! Santa Claus, played by our own Mr. Beverly, sat on his throne and gave out the door prizes to the lucky winners. Marshall Rotella and his orchestra furnished the music. The planning and decorations for the dance were done by the junior class members and officers, who not only worked hard but had a wonderful time doing it!

You know, juniors have an advantage over the other students in the school. They know more people in the school than any other group. They know the seniors because they were juniors when they were sophomores, and they know the sophomores, because they were in junior high school with them. In other words, they know practically everybody! Nice, isn't it?

The class of '49 would like to take this opportunity to thank sincerely their junior class sponsors, Miss Wilhelmina Wright and Mr. O. H. Parrish, for guidance and advice throughout the year, and all the teachers and class members who helped to plan and make our social activities possible.

The juniors are looking forward to an extra special senior year; and as the monkey said when he backed into the lawn-mower, "It wont be long now!"

Bye now!

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

After organizing and working hard with the student association since its beginning in 1937, Miss Mamie Auerbach resigned as sponsor of this group. With its new sponsor, Miss Mary Gladys Lambert, the student association has again been very successful in its work.

The officers and the members of the executive committee were voted upon in the spring election. At this time the students of John Marshall voted for the persons who they thought could best carry on the work of the organization. Students were chosen for their efficiency, dependability, and their willingness to work. This committee meets every week and works out the problems brought to it at the homeroom representative monthly meetings. As always, the student association is the body through which the students and the faculty work for the betterment of the school.

In the past year the student association has undertaken several projects. During the football season they sold John Marshall football pins and throughout the term blue and white pencils with "John Marshall" on them.

The student association undertook the work of getting and keeping up-to-date the bulletin boards in both Wythe and John Marshall.

To increase school spirit for the football season the student association held pep rallies each morning before a game and decorated the stadium for home games. "Good luck" telegrams were sent to the team at the hour of the kick-off. Buses were chartered through the association to take the student body to the games in Norfolk and Petersburg.

At Christmas $92.88 was collected from the homerooms and clothes and toys were bought for the children at the City Home. In January $176.15 was collected for the March of Dimes.

A committee worked throughout the year to improve the order and traffic in the cafeteria.

On January 30, the new sophomores were introduced to their principal, Dr. Fred B. Dixon, the sophomore counselors, and the leaders of student activities. As the new students were baffled at the size of the school, groups of old students conducted tours. These included visits to Virginia Mechanics Institute, the library, nurse's office, cafeterias, gym, and the armory. Refreshments were served after the tours.

Several plans have been made for the work next year. One of the association's objectives is to print a new and up-to-date handbook. Also, a committee is working on plans for a recreation room to be used by the students during recess.

The graduates on the executive committee this year wish to extend their best wishes and hopes for a successful future to the John Marshall Student Association, realizing every student is responsible for its success.

CHRISTIAN YOUTH LEAGUE

"Remember Now Thy Creator in the Days of Thy Youth"
ECC. 12:1

The John Marshall Christian Youth League was organized in November 1938, at the request of four senior students who felt a real need for more Christian fellowship in school. Bob Filer, now a Baptist minister, was its first president.

From the beginning, membership in the League has been open to students of all faiths.

The League meets once every week for worship as well as to discuss religious topics, to exchange ideas, and to learn to know each other better. This year we have spent much time discussing the qualifications of a Christian; such as: honesty, humility, diligence, purity, and forgiveness.

Miss Rosa Branch has been our sponsor since the League was first organized, except for a period of three terms when Miss Thelma Keene sponsored it.

We held our first banquet on May 16, 1947, at Ewart's Cafeteria. Seventy-five were present, including members, alumni, and invited guests. Dr. W. F. Dunkle, pastor of Barton Heights Methodist Church, was the principal speaker. Graham Lester, an alumnus of the League and now a ministerial student at the University of Richmond, conducted the consecration service for the newly elected officers. We hope the banquet will be an annual affair.

Since last May, we have enjoyed very much our correspondence with seventeen students in Edinburgh, Scotland; and just recently we have added to our list of foreign friends two students in Seoul, Korea.

The purpose of the League is not only to cultivate the ideals of our members, but to serve others as well. At Christmas, we sent food, clothing, and toys to a needy family in Richmond. We have sent materials for scrapbooks to a mission school in China and have also made scrapbooks for the children at the Medical College of Virginia.

We have had two outings this year and are planning two more for the spring. In October, 1947, we had an oyster roast on the lower Rappahannock, fifty miles from Richmond, at the summer cottage of Miss Branch. In December we had a fine Christmas party at the home of Mary Page Crump, who is our chairman of recreation.

Our membership this year has been larger than usual and the attendance at all meetings has been excellent.

We congratulate Ruby Seal and Lu Angell upon their graduation. However, we shall miss them. Ruby has been our organist for three years and a most loyal member of the League. Lu, also, has given her time and vocal talent to the League unsparingly.

The John Marshall Chapter of the National Honor Society strives to uphold the four cardinal principals on which the organization is founded—Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character.

To start the year's work, there were sixteen members, and in November twenty-six persons were invited to join. The first informal get-together was a picnic at Forest Hill Park with roasted wieners and all the trimmings.

The Stuart Circle Nurses' Home was the scene of the annual Christmas banquet on December 30. Toasts were proposed by the active members, after which all joined in singing Christmas carols.

The Honor Society's initiation was broadcast over the radio on January 15.

Six of the society's members participated in the National Honor Society scholarship contest which was held on March 16. Our contestants came out with shortened fingernails, saying how hard the test was.

Many of the members of the society have participated in other organizations such as Quill and Scroll, the student association, the senior class, the Marshallite and Monocle staffs, the Christmas pageant, and the Key Club. To be chosen a member of the National Honor Society is a high tribute.

SINCE organization in John Marshall February 3, 1930, Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists, under the leadership of Miss Charles Anthony, has striven to uphold the best standards of journalism and the high character for which the chapter stands: truth, loyalty, friendship, opportunity, leadership, initiative, and cultural attainments.

To become a member of the Quill and Scroll Society is an honor to be longed for, worked for, and cherished always. Last fall, at the initiation in the auditorium, twelve persons promised to uphold the high ideals of this society.

After initiation, members met in the pressroom with their parents and friends to have Pepsi Cola or coffee and cookies, with their sponsor as hostess. At this time pins and membership cards were received by the initiates.

Quill and Scroll persons' ability is not limited to the journalistic field only. Most of the members are in the National Honor Society. Several take parts in the John Marshall Student Association and various other organizations throughout the school.

The annual Christmas party given by the Quill and Scroll members for their alumni was a joyous time. Several old members returned and told of their experiences since leaving John Marshall. Many faculty members were present.

Graduates and fall term initiates met at the Poe Shrine in January to have their picture made for THE MARSHALLITE. Alumni and spring term initiates met at John Marshall's home for their picture.

Other events which were of special interest were the press banquets at the end of each term. These were attended by the staffs of The Record, The Monocle, and THE MARSHALLITE. Here the new staff members for the publications were announced. Several of the Quill and Scroll alumni returned to participate in these occasions. Everyone enjoyed hearing what others had accomplished in the journalism field.

Winning recognition in the honorable mention list of the Quill and Scroll editorial contest in January was Jess Hoyt Walters.

Throughout the semester a "Meet Your Library" campaign was conducted by Quill and Scroll to acquaint students with the facilities of the library and to make them understand what they should expect from the library and what their responsibilities toward the library are. A column "Books, Our Library, and You", appeared in The Monocle along with feature stories, and news stories that helped to carry out the campaigns which were planned to last until March.

The John Marshall Literary Society was founded in October under the leadership of Miss Florence Ingram of the English department. A group of students were invited to discuss the purposes of such a society and to plan its organization.

Following the election of officers, the Program Committee decided on the study of Richmond authors as the work for the term. The first author discussed was Miss Ellen Glasgow. Marie Valdrighi gave a report on the life of Miss Glasgow; Bernice Berkman reviewed one of the author's books, "In This Our Life." Joyce Cogbill read a passage from "Romance of a Plain Man" to illustrate Miss Glasgow's style of writing.

The next of the authors studied was Clifford Dowdey. Barbara Rice, Phyllis Schneider, and Barbara Carter interviewed Mr. Dowdey. Their reports showed him to be friendly and very much interested in John Marshall, his alma mater. He was especially willing to talk about his favorite topic, Virginia's history. Catherine McGruder gave a report on one of his books, "Bugles Blow No More".

The Society has had many interesting programs. Margaret Gibson and Cora Lee Dickens won books as prizes in a contest about book titles. At the conclusion of some meetings, there is a social hour and refreshments are served.

A group visited the State Library, where they were permitted to see the Archives Department and the room for rare books. Judging from the discussions and the reports given of this trip, those who attended were privileged indeed.

Just before Christmas there was a Christmas program followed by a Christmas party.

The Literary Society fills a need in John Marshall. Its beginning has been very formable, as it has already proved both a source of profit and enjoyment.

THE VERSE-SPEAKING CHOIR

Philip Krill……President

The Verse-Speaking Choir was organized in the fall of 1946. Although the choir did not receive its charter until March 5, 1947, it made its first public appearance in a talent assembly program in October, 1946. Shortly after this program, it recited selections at the Thanksgiving assemblies. At the dedication of the plaque in honor of those who gave their lives for their country in World War II, the choir gave its interpretation of selections from the Psalms. It has also appeared at each meeting of the Parent-Teacher-Student Association. The choir took part in the annual Christmas pageant, "The Prince of Peace". Since its organization this group has read at each commencement original selections written especially for the choir for presentation on these occasions.

Its repertoire consists of humorous works as well as those of a serious nature. The selections are read from memory and include solo parts in addition to group work. Some of the selections read by the choir are "The Highwayman", a special arrangement of "The Lord's Prayer", "The Sleigh", "A Quaker's Wooing", "Work", "A Chant Out of Doors", and "Thirteen Sisters".

The Verse-Speaking Choir by participating in many activities at John Marshall has tried to stimulate in its members a greater appreciation of poetry and prose and to create in the audience greater interest in interpretation through choral reading.

John Marshall is indebted to Miss Thelma Keene for introducing and sponsoring this activity.

THE DRAMA CLASSES

Through the efforts of Mrs. Charlotte Wheeler De Courcy and Miss Eva Branch, the Class of Drama became a regular part of the speech course in 1938. Students, who must have had at least one term in speech, direct, produce, and act in plays given in room 209. In this room are stage, curtains and other equipment, which were obtained by Miss De Courcy. Besides acting, each student keeps a record of the activities of the entire course in a notebook with pictures of costumes through the ages. Work on committees such as library, costumes, lights, props, make-up, set, and bulletin board is included in the course.

The spring play, Clarence, by Booth Tarkington, was produced by the group on March 18 and 19.

Some of the one-act plays produced as class work were: The Bishops Candlesticks, The Valiant, Victoria Regina, Holding a Husband, Where the Cross Is Made, Story of a Dead Woman, Three's a Crowd, The Dear Departed, Red Carnations, and Catherine Parr.

THE KEY CLUB

THE Key Club of John Marshall High School was organized in January, 1947, by the Kiwanis Club of Richmond. It is a service club to the school and the community.

The objects of the Key Club are to develop initiative and potential leadership, to create the opportunity for practical experience in dealing with each other as adults, to cooperate with the principal in all school matters and projects, and to gain the experience and the practical education that will help its members find a place in life. Its ideals and its purposes are similar to those of the Kiwanis Club.

The Key Club is composed of the key boys in the school. They are chosen by the faculty, the principal, and the club for good character, good scholarship, and leadership ability. To be eligible for the honor of being a member in the Key Club a boy must have a semester average of not less than eighty on his academic work. The club is composed of about thirty-five members. Forty per cent of these are seniors, forty per cent juniors, and twenty per cent sophomores.

Through its program of service to the school and community the Key Club has accomplished a number of undertakings for which it is proud. It presented vocational books to the school library. A group from the club helped with the Crippled Children's Hospital's Christmas party and the annual Salvation Army Christmas party. The club planned a basketball game between the Kiwanians and the faculty of John Marshall High School, a father-son banquet, a joint program with the student association in our school for setting up a recreation room in the basement of John Marshall to be used during recess periods, a board on which athletic records may be displayed, and mirrors in the restrooms.

The Key Club would like to express its thanks to Dr. Dixon, Mr. James C. Harwood, Jr., and the Kiwanis Key Club Committee for their help in making this a most successful year for the club.

During the season, the Opera Class sang a concert for the Parent Teacher Student Association; participated in many assembly programs, including the Christmas pageant and Easter service; sang carols in the corridors of John Marshall, Wythe, and Ruffner School buildings; sang concerts at Chandler Junior High School and at East End Junior High School; were in the presentation of THE ROSE MAIDEN, by Cowen; sang THE ROSE MAIDEN at Camp Lee, for the Red Cross; took part in the graduation ceremonies in February and in June; and made transcriptions which were broadcast on the MONOCLY YOURS program, from WCOD. This group supplied many singers who took part in the State Music Festival, District I, held at Thomas Jefferson High School. The Class sang two very difficult a cappella numbers, receiving the superior minus rating, and the excellent plus rating for sight reading. A girls' ensemble, of twelve voice, got the superior rating, as did Sonny Wills, baritone soloist. Dot Curtis, soprano, Joyce Dodson, contralto, and Irving Schiff, tenor, each received the excellent rating. Maurianne Burton was the piano accompanist for the contestants.

The Cadet Ensemble of twelve boys received the excellent rating in the Festival; they later sang for a cadet party held in the Armory.

The Girls' Chorus rehearsed regularly the first semester, but had to discontinue because of lack of rehearsal time during the second term.

All members of the voice classes took part in the presentation of THE ROSE MAIDEN, by Cowen. This was accompanied by Martha Reuss, on a Hammond Organ, and Maurianne Burton, on the piano.

The voice classes had a new room this season, 108. It was newly furnished and sound conditioned.

The John Marshall High School orchestra began the new school year under the direction of Mr. W. Donald Berky, who filled the position vacated by Mr. Mark Troxell.

Twelve members of the orchestra took part in the annual State String Orchestra Festival held at Thomas Jefferson High School early in December. Florace Lockwood and Nancy Adkins made third and fourth chairs viola, respectively.

In April the John Marshall orchestra participated in the Regional State Competitive Festival.

The orchestra joined with other city orchestras in May to form the All-City Orchestra. This was in conjunction with the City Festival held at the Richmond City Stadium.

All during the year the orchestra contributed music to the assembly programs. Besides these, the orchestra took part in the Baccalaureate Services and Commencement Exercises in February and June.

To raise money to buy new equipment the orchestra joined with the band in giving a formal concert in April. This was the first of its kind in several years.

Y-Teens are members of clubs sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. for high school and junior high school girls. They are also girls who are interested in getting together for a good time. Y-Teens have no prejudices against race and exclude no member because of creed. They are a world-wide organization embracing almost every nation. Each club elects its own officers and plans its own programs and social activities. To support the clubs, the members vote on dues and during the year have special projects to raise money. These girls believe that youth has a real part to play in the world today, and so they discuss and try to understand the problems of other races and people of the world. As they are interested in developing and understanding themselves, they have discussions on clothes, charm, personality, boy and girl relations, and religion.

The purpose of all Y-Teens is the same as that of the adult members of the Y. W. C. A.: "To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

This year the Sophomore and Senior Y-Teen Clubs united to form the John Marshall Y-Teen Club. As always, they pledged themselves to uphold the ideals of the club and to render service whenever and wherever possible. At Christmas-time gifts of food and clothing were added to those of other clubs to be sent to Rome, Italy, and Czechoslovakia. An annual event is raising funds to send delegates to the various conferences. This past summer, a delegate was sent to the National Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. conferences in Grinnell, Iowa, and two to Ilahi, North Carolina. However, all the club's time is not spent in such activity. This year there was a taffy pull, a song fest, and a party. Other plans for the year include a hay ride and a slumber party at the Y. W. C. A.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONAL TRAINING

It is believed that any complete and balanced program of industrial arts and vocational education should provide for coöperation of industry with the work of the high school. Recognizing the importance of such correlation as well as the need for vocational adjustment of a considerable number of girls and boys who will soon be faced with the problem of making a living, a coöperative vocational training plan has been in operation at John Marshall for ten years.

Through a coöperative agreement with employers and parents, students in their junior and senior years may elect to be placed in certain occupations which serve as training agencies and coöperate with the school in its program. These students receive training in the occupation of their choice and under actual working conditions for at least three hours a day for five days a week. They then spend three hours each day in school receiving one hour of technical instruction directly related to the job, and two hours of regular academic work required for high school graduation. These pupils receive credit toward graduation for satisfactory work on the job and are paid while doing it.

Some of the values inherent in this type of training are: a practical insight into the vocation, and the development of proper work habits and attitudes; an opportunity for real and practical guidance; retention by the students of their identity with the regular high school graduation class; and preparation for entering college or securing permanent employment.

The following jobs engaged in by students this year will give some idea of the diversity of occupations for which training is provided under this program of study: auto electric parts repairman, electric motor repairman, engineer's aide, estimator of boiler installation, jewelry repairman, mail clerk, meat cutter, roofer, service station operator, shipping clerk, stock room clerk, visual aide technician, woodworker, photo finisher, and airplane maintenance man.

DON JUAN CLUB

Marion Allen	President
Janice Draughn	Vice President
Jackie Heppert	Secretary
Shirley Farmer	Treasurer

¡Hola Amigos! Again Don Juan Club recalls and enumerates some interesting activities for your perusal. The interest and enthusiasm of the members for "El Español" is quite evident, for in our meetings we learn many idioms and expressions that are helpful in our class work. The programs, whether educational or social, have always the aroma of the Spanish atmosphere. "Tengo," not bingo, is the way we play it; la Rosa Mexicana is the way we sing it; "el Jarabe Tapatiõ" is the way we dance it, and "con mucho gusto" is the way we speak it. Records, movies, skits, and games are our main source of amusement.

The highlight of the year is the trip to Washington which affords many of the members the opportunity of visiting, for the first time, the capital of the United States and many places of interest in and near the city, such as: Mt. Vernon, the Washington Monument, the Smithsonian Institute, The Pan-American Building, and last but not least, the zoo. Much can still be learned by visiting and studying our animal friends—¿Verdad? The "burro" we have adopted as our constant companion.

The annual banquet for the classes in modern languages is also a gala event. Always welcomed are the visits and talks which our Spanish-speaking friends make to our club—and especially to our banquets. Sí, sí, señor, we know what they eat: "hot tamales" and "chile." You might like it too. ¿Quién sabe?

SANS SOUCI CLUB

BILLIE JEANNE HOLLOMON	President

LILA WINN	Treasurer

Le Club Sans Souci vous salue!

Right this way, fellow students, and let us tell you about all the wonderful times the Sans Souci Club has had this year. Our first attraction, folks, was at a home on Brookland Park Boulevard on the night of December 22. Yes, the club had an exciting Soirée de Noël! Surprises, games, and delicious food were on the menu for that night. Red faces were popular, too, especially when our newly-married sponsor, Mrs. Tiller, opened the wrong Christmas present and found that—never mind what it was! Quel ennui! It was really quite embarrassing, but with the exception of this one incident, the party was a big success and everyone left with the feeling of "Let's have more of them!"

Attraction number two was the assembly program put on by the language classes at John Marshall. The program was welcomed enthusiastically by the students, even though we were slightly hampered by the lights going out during one assembly. We are still grateful to the other students for wanting us to continue the program despite this handicap. A new hit song was born, too, as some of the students left the auditorium humming "Sur le Pont d'Avignon". Trés bien, aussi.

Our main event for the year was the annual French and Spanish banquet at a local cafeteria. The French and Spanish motifs were carried out through decorations, songs, and skits from these respective languages. We cannot help recalling how the evening's pleasure was enhanced by les bons appétits of all. Certainly all who were present will remember Lu Angell and Teddy Perritt for their entertainment. Bons souvenirs et bonne chance!

DISTRIBUTORS' CLUB

KENT LOONEY	President
OKEMA SPENCE	Vice President
MARJORIE LANDMAN	Secretary
PAULINE LOVING	Treasurer

THE students pictured above are members of the John Marshall Chapter of the Associated Distributive Education Clubs of America, an organization composed of high school and college retailing students and alumni. These Marshallites earn while they learn. They attend school in the morning, and with the help of Miss Vivien King, Distributive Education Coordinator, find employment in Richmond's retail and wholesale establishments where they work a minimum of fifteen hours a week as part of their school training.

Their classroom and club activities are very closely related. They study salesmanship, display, advertising, store organization and stockkeeping, business arithmetic, and effective speech in the retailing class. Club programs are built around job opportunities in the field of distribution, discussions of various phases of retailing by outstanding businessmen, films, field trips to Richmond businesses, and visits with other Distributors' Clubs in the area.

Outstanding among the club's activities for this year were the traditional Christmas party; a one-day visit to the convention of the Associated Distributor's Clubs of Virginia held in Richmond March 8, 9, and 10, where this chapter's delegate and president, Kent Looney, was seen "in action"; and our annual employer-employee banquet, which was a delightful affair held in conjunction with the Thomas Jefferson High School Chapter.

Honors received during the year include the first prizes won by the local club since its inception at John Marshall. Second prize was won at the State Convention both in the display contest and in the merchandise manual contest. The prize-winning display was made on the subject of spring fabrics and was entitled "Spotlight in Spring Fashion." The merchandise manual which was awarded second prize in the contest was made by Irene Conner on the subject of rayon. This manual was also entered in the national contest in St. Louis. The club was also very proud to have several pictures appear in the National Club Magazine "The Distributor."

The Distributive Education Club of America is a growing organization for the advancement of students in the field of distribution. Virginia had the privilege of sending delegates to the second national convention held in St. Louis, Missouri, March 22, 23, and 24, where three of Virginia's six delegates were elected to national offices.

Ben Bailey	Vice-President
Virginia May Lawrence	Secretary-Treasurer
Bruce Justis	Program Chairman

The John Marshall Forum Club was organized to stimulate student interest in current problems and thereby create better informed citizens.

The club meets every Friday during the second and third recesses. Membership in the club is open to anyone who is interested in gaining knowledge of vital problems of the day. The members and guests join in lively discussions. The topics considered are of local, national, and international importance. The programs this year have included panel discussions, prominent guest speakers, and visits to historical shrines.

LIBRARY STAFF

Betty Burton	President
June Holder	Vice President
Phyllis Smith	Secretary

Through the efforts of the library staff, composed of twenty-eight volunteer workers, the library is able to give more efficient service to the school. Their duties include shelving, slipping and charging books, checking passes, etc. The staff has been holding meetings on the first and fourth Thursdays of the month in order to acquire more detailed knowledge of library terms and techniques, etc. There have also been discussions of books, reading, and other interesting subjects.

AMERICAN JUNIOR

The John Marshall Chapter of the Junior Red Cross believes that it has accomplished a great deal in the past year. Through the splendid cooperation of its members with Sue Hallam, president; Bob Pate, vice-president; Faye Dixon, secretary; Tommy Arnold, treasurer; and Ann Watts, publicity chairman; each drive has been successful.

More money was raised for the National Junior Red Cross drive than ever before in the history of John Marshall. Over fifty boxes were sent to the Richmond headquarters for distribution in European countries. Approximately 100 Christmas stockings were filled by the students with useful gifts for the boys at McGuire General Hospital. The council "adopted" a child in the Crippled Children's Hospital and tried to make its Christmas brighter. Representatives from this chapter made visits to the "shut-ins". The sun-room at the Medical College of Virginia was decorated through the council's efforts. Every Thursday the Junior Red Cross sponsors a paper drive.

The council is grateful to Miss Pauline Benton for her excellent guidance in its activities. It is proud of Sue Hallam, who represents the chapter on the Board of the Senior Red Cross Council. This is the first time that a Junior Red Cross worker has recevied this honor. Sue is also president of the Richmond Junior Red Cross Council.

OFFICE AIDES

A group of pupils volunteer their services to the offices in John Marshall and George Wythe. They answer the phones, carry messages, file, distribute the mail, and are helpful in various ways. In this manner they are able to serve their school while learning a great deal about office work.

Hi-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club was reorganized this year by a group of boys with the aid of adult leadership.

In this nation-wide high school youth movement working for a Christian democracy, the boys are encouraged to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of character. It is in their work together and with others that they prepare themselves to meet the world as young men, and to uphold the purposes of the Hi-Y Club.

Here, in the Harwood Chapter, which is named in memory of our late principal, the boys meet not only to work, but also for the fine social life which the organization offers. They find the pool and the gym at the Y.M.C.A. most enjoyable; and, working together, they sponsor dances, hay-rides, and outings at various camps.

When this club was first organized, numerous boys made application for membership. Those who qualified for admission found real fun in getting together on Tuesday nights and discussing any vexing problems of the day or planning any of the social events on the calendar.

During the meetings, there was a religious ceremony and then business which pertained to aiding the school or community was discussed. Sometimes the fellows got together after the meetings and had a swell time raising the roof by singing good old songs. At other times the members were fortunate in having a coach or local businessman give a short talk. Occasionally a movie was shown.

During the year the Hi-Y sponsored a number of social events such as the Christmas party. Hay-rides were given several times, and once the group was lucky enough to get passes to a show. When the Virginia State Fair was held, several members helped man a booth, and the organization contributed to the "Y"-Fund.

By the time the term had started in February so many boys had applied for membership that a second group was formed, thus giving John Marshall two chapters. This gave each club a real chance for competition in sports between the two chapters, as well as with other schools and clubs.

Before the close of school in June the fellows had bought jackets with name and the chapter of the club on them. Besides looking very snappy in these, there were other reasons for the boys to wear them so proudly.

The officers and members of the Hi-Y Club predict that this organization will grow in fame as well as service, aiding school and community in teaching boys the high standards of Christian character. May the club of today prepare its members for the world of tomorrow in which they will live.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club was organized in October, 1947, when all interested Commercial students assembled to hear the objectives of such an organization explained by Mrs. Olson, sponsor. A brief resumé was given of proposed activities, which included field trips, films, and entertainment by guest speakers representing local business firms. A nominating committee was appointed to prepare a slate of officers, for election at the November meeting. The following officers were elected:

Charlotte Folkes, President;

Vivian Lucord, Vice-President;

Doris Tillman, Secretary;

The following are members of committees, appointed by the officers:

THE MONOCLE

For nineteen years The Monocle has been recording the history of John Marshall High School. During this time the paper has brought high honors and distinction to this school, and has backed all worthwhile activities.

In the last National Scholastic Press Association service The Monocle again won first place honors. In the University of Virginia contest it rated as a distinguished newspaper, along with five other newspapers in the state. In that group, however, The Chatterbox, of Danville, made the highest score. Quill and Scroll rated The Monocle as one of the top ranking papers in the country giving it the international honor rating, and Columbia University gave last year's papers top honor, that of medalist.

One of the fall term's issues was dedicated to the memory of our former principal, Mr. James C. Harwood.

As a reward for their making their homerooms 100% in subscriptions, Miss Charles Anthony, adviser of The Monocle, gave a party for the homeroom representatives and teachers of these rooms.

The Monocle had its annual birthday party in the pressroom on March 1. Members of the staff and invited guests attended the celebration, and everyone took part in the cutting of the large birthday cake.

Delegates from The Monocle attended the Southern Interscholastic Press Meet at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia, during the month of April.

An extra edition of The Monocle was sold at the end of each term as the last piece of work of the graduating staff. These carried as one of the features, the Last Will and Testament of the Senior Class.

THE RECORD

During the 1947-48 term The Record has again come forth with some fine stories, essays, and poems to amuse and entertain its friends at John Marshall, as well as to afford an outlet for so many potential writers. To prove that Marshallites are reading as well as writing, a new high was hit in the book review department, which fell far below average last year and was even discontinued for awhile. Poems, too, hit a new high this year with many new names breaking into print under a poetic title.

If it were possible for us to do so we should like to acknowledge here all of those who contributed to The Record this year, but, as you know, the space is limited and we just can not do as we should wish. However, we wish to extend our deepest thanks to all of you Marshallites who have contributed to The Record, and to the teachers and students who have done so much hard, and often unrecognized, work in getting publication into the finished copy which you read.

The Record changed editors in midstream (or midterm) this year, and although the experienced hand of Kathleen Burkett was missed, Annette Chester and Florace Ann Lockwood took over as co-editors in February and did a good job of turning out two issues of the magazine. Kathleen Burkett, the editor since September of 1946, graduated in February of this year, and we really missed her presence in The Record room. The Record has never had a more willing or more talented worker than Kathleen, and we should like to wish her the best of everything and ask that she do as good work as a citizen as she did as editor of The Record.

Next term The Record will be forty years old. Let us hope that it will continue its excellent record for forty more years—and then some. The staff and the adviser wish to extend heartiest congratulations to all of you who are now graduating, and to wish you every good fortune as you take your place in your community as a citizen.

THE MARSHALLITE

Compiling this publication has been work and fun.

First, the staff was divided into committees which had weekly meetings. The book began to take form as each group decided how many pages it needed for its coverage. The cover was sketched and submitted for approval. Pictures were scheduled. When all the pictures appearing on one page had been taken and identified, they were cropped. Then the layout for each page was planned. This layout was drawn in the dummy and also sketched on a 9x12 sheet for the engraver. The pictures and their layouts were sent to the engraver.

Copy to appear on the page was also collected, corrected and typed. When the engraver sent prints of his engravings, they were pasted in the dummy, which was sent to the printer. After setting the type for 8 or 16 Pages, our printer sent us proofs of these sheets for our correction. Then the big presses began to roll, and the final signatures were combined.

During this time the business staff was busy with circulation drives, getting ads, laying out the ads, proofreading them, and sending bills.

Our work was heavy. When a staff member fell down on his job, another committee member had to step in and complete his work, because in the publishing business deadlines must be met.

Special thanks are given to Barbara Moore and Martha Reuss for their splendid assistance and willingness to tackle difficult jobs. Barbara Moore drew the portraits of the outstanding pupils in school which may be found preceding the division pages.

(8) Another group waits for the bus to take them to Portsmouth. (9) The Student Association sponsors pep rallies before each home game. (10) ADDISON GARNETT, GORDON JONES, GEORGE KEVORKIAN, HARVEY WILLIAMS, and BOB KELL form a Jalopy Club.

JOHN MARSHALL High School's football season, '47-'48, proved to be the exact opposite of the '46-'47 season in the games won and the games lost. This year the record shows nine wins against one defeat. Also the "Big Blue," led by co-captains Ted Filer and Jimmie Baber, captured the City Championship trophy.

In the first city championship game John Marshall pulled a surprising 20-0 upset over the Cadet eleven of Benedictine which had been a pre-game, three touchdown, favorite. The Justices had barely skimmed a 6 to 0 margin over a group II Victoria team the previous week when center Don Layne intercepted a Victoria pass and galloped to paydirt for the only score. This defeat over the Cadets sparked the team's spirit throughout the season because they knew then they had the potential power to be winners.

John Marshall continued its victories by a 28 to 6 win over St. Christopher for the city victory No. II.

The following week, the Justices suffered a 12 to 0 setback from a powerful state champion team, Woodrow Wilson High. However this season, John Marshall ran second to Wilson in the state high school race.

The next game was a half sunshiny, half rainsoaked affair in which guard Ralph Shoemaker proved to be hero. "Shoo" blocked a Jefferson, of Roanoke, kick which rolled in and out of the end zone for a two point safety for the "Blue and White" which was the only score.

John Marshall then went to Norfolk and downed last year's champion, Granby, 21 to 0. The "Little Blue" of Hopewell fell next at the hands of the powerful Marshallites by a close 13 to 6 score.

Following suit came Alexandria who was dropped 27 to 13.

The annual classic with T.J. took place on a field which was soaked with approximately four inches of mud and the drizzle continued throughout the game. At times things looked bad for both teams, but finally displaying their power and their determination the Justice's All-State and All-Southern star, Ted Filer romped straight through the middle for 63 yards in what proved to be the perfect play, executed well by both backs and linemen. Two plays later "Big Ted" charged across and that is the way the score ended, J.M. 6—T.J. 0. This was the first J.M. victory over T.J. in 6 years.

In the annual Turkey Day classic at Petersburg, the Justices wound up their exceedingly successful season by overwhelming Petersburg 20 to 7.

The Justices account for their splendid record this year through the fine teamwork exhibited by each player. Every boy played for the glory of the team, not for his glory. Also these players received excellent coaching from the staff, and an increase in school spirit had its effect. With this type of support and backing there is no reason why John Marshall can not continue to be on top in all sports.

Fall hockey for the year of 1947 began for the John Marshall girls in the middle of September under the direction of Miss Helen McKenney.

After continuously practicing for three weeks the Jayem girls played their first league game of the season, losing to Saint Catherine's 14 to 1. The only score was in the first half when Jean Belcher passed the ball to Billie James who hit it in. Virginia Ridenour was elected captain just before the game.

Collegiate. However, Billie James, left inner, and Jean Belcher, center forward, scored one goal each in the second half to make the score 4 to 2.

Coming through again were Jean Belcher and Billie James with their two goals to tie the score against Petersburg 2 to 2 on November 5.

On a wet, muddy field the John Marshall hockey team lost to Thomas Jefferson with a score of 4 to 2 on November 12.

Jean Belcher sparked the Blue and White by tallying the only two markers in the game.

Playing in the Virginia Prep School Tournament held at Saint Catherines' athletic field Jayem's hockey squad ended the season. Making all city team as goalie was Connie Agnew, a sophomore, from John Marshall. Substitutes for the prep school team were Billie James, inner; Margaret Hall, fullback; and Betty Vaughan, left halfback.

ADDISON GARNETT and JOHN SHARPE plan their work in an electricity class.

A group comes through the tunnel which joins George Wythe and John Marshall.

HIGHLIGHTS

8th & Marshall—Athletes' Corner

ALUMNI and students of John Marshall High School are proud of its traditions, successes, and growth. Built in 1909 to replace Richmond High School, its enrollment has increased to 2,015; its faculty numbers 105 members with a full time nurse, two full time libarians, two full time counselors, and six part time counselors. Instruction is now given in four buildings: John Marshall, George Wythe, Virginia Mechanics Institute, and the Grays' Armory. The State Capitol buildings, State Library, Home of the Confederacy, Medical College of Virginia, main post office, the business and commercial stems of Richmond, and the Richmond newspaper industry, and three radio stations are within a radius of four blocks, making class visits possible.

Other physical features of which the school is proud are: an athletic field, an audio-visual laboratory, a three-room library, and two gyms. The floor of the Grays' Armory has been refinished as a gym floor for our boys.

Our school prepares its students, upon graduation, to enter college, business, or industries. At the present time English, one year of history, and one year of science are required subjects.

Under expert guidance the pupils of John Marshall High School are assisted in choosing other courses which will be valuable to them according to their interests and abilities. It is possible to take successive courses in history, mathematics, foreign languages, and the sciences during the three years a student attends our school. Most of the stu-

Juniors look at the replica of the Constitution.

Two rooms are "thrown" into one for the taking of standard tests.

Our athletic field is popular as a drill field and for sport practices.

Sophomores look at one of the many paintings which have been gifts to the school from former senior classes.

dents preparing for college follow such a course. Other offerings are drama, journalism, music, art, military, cooking, sewing, typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, driving, and shop work.

The industrial arts are very popular as electives or as requirements for those who are being trained for the industrial world. At Virginia Mechanics Institute, we have well equipped shops in auto mechanics, electricity, printing, sheet metal work, and mechanical drawing. These boys spend three hours a day in these shops. There are also classes in woodwork, electricity, mechanical drawing, jewelry, ceramics, and photography offered in John Marshall High School.

The Commercial Foods Course gives daily, three hour instruction in the duties of cafeteria manager, supervisor, dietitian, cashier, and hostess. The Commercial Art Course is designed to give the students training in the various phases of commercial art such as advertising, story illustration, and window display.

Three courses are offered to boys and girls who are definitely going into industry or business upon graduation. These students receive their training on actual jobs. Their employers pay them for their work and report on their progress to the school. Diversified Occupational Training, Distributive Education, and Business Coordination offer opportunities for work in industry, retail business or office work.

John Marshall believes that it offers a varied course to its students as well as many opportunities for social activities.

John Marshall's home serves as the background for a "snow battle."

John Marshall has two trophy cases as a monument to the school's prowess.

Grays' Armory is used as the boys' gym.

The Mark of a Champion . . .

WHEN a young man can face the business world with the same undaunted courage that he bucks the line in football, and can take the bumps that inevitably will come to him in business, and can keep his fighting spirit and keep smiling . . . then he has the mark of a champion. The world needs young men like this and the world will make way for them. The life insurance business needs such men, so why not prepare yourself for a career in the life insurance business. It's a business of opportunity for young men of ambition and vision.

How to Make Friends, and KEEP THEM

1. Keep skid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think. Cultivate a low, persuasive voice. How you say it often counts for more than what you say.
2. Make promises sparingly, and keep them faithfully, no matter what it costs you.
3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging thing to or about somebody. Praise good work done, regardless of who did it. If criticism is merited, criticize helpfully, never spitefully.
4. Be interested in others; interested in their pursuits, their welfare, their homes and families. Make merry with those who rejoice, and mourn with those who weep. Let everyone you meet, however humble, feel that you regard him as a person of importance.
5. Be cheerful. Keep the corners of your mouth turned up. Hide your pains, worries and disappointments under a pleasant smile. Laugh at good stories, and learn to tell them.
6. Preserve an open mind on all debatable questions. Discuss, but don't argue. It is a mark of superior minds to disagree and yet be friendly.
7. Let your virtues, if you have any, speak for themselves, and refuse to talk of another's vices. Discourage gossip, and make it a rule to say nothing of another unless it is something good.
8. Be careful of others' feelings. Wit and humor at the other fellow's expense are rarely worth the effort, and may hurt where least expected.
9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you. Simply live so nobody will believe them. Disordered nerves and poor digestion are common causes of backbiting.
10. Don't be too anxious about getting just dues. Do your work, be patient, keep your disposition sweet, forget self, and you will be respected and rewarded.
